"In the end, it's your actions, how you respond to circumstance, that reveals your character."

CATE BLANCHETT

What you have read so far is just an introduction into the complexities of the kindhearted, creative, and incredibly rare Advocate personality type.

Along the way, you may have muttered to yourself, “Wow, this is so accurate, it’s a little creepy,” or “Finally, someone understands me!” You may have even asked, “How do they know more about me than the people I’m closest to do?”

If you feel understood right now, it’s because you are. Years of research have given us deep insights into the unique strengths and challenges of Advocates like you. We understand your creativity and your passion and your commitment to doing the right thing, but we also understand the dark side of your personality type: the nagging fear that you might not reach your full potential and make the most of your one wild and precious life.

Advocates’ gifts include idealism, determination, and the ability to envision a better future – but they don’t just want to hear what makes them great. Advocates are committed to actually using these gifts to become better people and serve a greater purpose in this world.

That's why we've made it our mission to help Advocates like you not only appreciate your gifts but also make the most of them. Learning about your personality type is fascinating, but there's a deeper purpose to it, too – because self-understanding is what helps you ensure that you don't miss out on whatever it is that you were put on this earth to do.

So here's our question for you, Advocate: Are you ready to take full advantage of your unique strengths – to unlock your true, exceptional potential? If so, your Premium Profile will give you new insights into your personality, your relationships, your career path, and your life's mission. This is the journey of a lifetime – and you'll find everything you need to get started by moving on to the next section.
